

This merging data screen is automatic with no input from the user. What it does is combines your selected fields to make a mapping file that the Update Utility will understand.

When it finishes you will see the next screen.